

After sexual assault

Resources close to you – Calgary and area

Sexual assault response teams

Specialized sexual assault teams provide compassionate care, emotional support, and information about care and reporting options for individuals who have experienced sexual assault.

These teams also support healthcare providers by providing consultation, guidance, and advice related to medical care, evidence preservation, and follow-up support.

Calgary and area

Hospitals

Alberta Health Services (AHS) hospitals and urgent care centres provide confidential and compassionate medical care following sexual assault. All sites can provide medical treatment and consult with specialized sexual assault teams any time, day or night.

Medical care may include treatment or prevention of sexually transmitted infections (STIs), pregnancy prevention, follow-up testing, and referrals to additional health services.
